Welcome to the EBMT Nurses Next Generation Group here on LinkedIn!

This is where nurses in the field of stem cell transplantation and cellular therapies network, especially to exchange ideas on next generation topics, share experiences and discuss more about future changes in the working world.

Together we are working towards promoting intergenerational exchange and gathering impulses for shaping the future of our work.

In this group we will regularly provide you with up-to-date information and keep you informed about the ongoing activities of the EBMT nurses group.

- Here there are
 - impulses
 - exchange of experience
 - respectful and appreciative discussion culture
 - mutual support community

Stay tuned for more!
